Do the Write Thing 2023-2024

DEAR PARTICIPATING MIDDLE SCHOOL EDUCATORS:

Thank you for taking the time to involve your students in the 2023-2024 Do the Write Thing (DtWT) program, the hallmark initiative of the National Campaign to Stop Violence (NCSV). You will be joined by hundreds of other classroom educators from across the United States in a coordinated, unique effort to give students the opportunity to communicate their experiences and insights on the impact of youth violence on their lives and to make personal commitments to reduce violence. This program can make a very positive difference in your relationship with your students and help reduce the level of violence in your school. An educator from Chicago shared, "The Do the Write Thing program is responsible for one of the most important things that happened in a classroom during all the years I have been a teacher. After the students had the opportunity to write on the issue of violence, discussion in the classroom became open and extraordinarily emotional. The ultimate result was positive beyond a teacher's wildest expectations."

In July of 2024, if your student is selected as a National Ambassador, you will be invited by the NCSV to attend DtWT's National Recognition Week in Washington, D.C. (travel and accommodations included).

During the National Recognition Week, DtWT Student National Ambassadors meet with Members of Congress and other prominent Americans to discuss the problem of youth violence. In addition, the students are honored at an embassy reception hosted by the Ambassador of Kuwait to the United States. A highlight of the week is a ceremony where their published writing is placed in the Library of Congress. For more information about the National Recognition Week please go to www.dtwt.org/recognition-week.

Enclosed is a packet titled Educator Handbook, which explains DtWT in more detail and includes further information on how to proceed. All of this information can also be downloaded from our website, www.dtwt.org/resources.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us by phone or by email. Thank you again for participating in this year's program. We wish your students success and hope to see you and one of your students in Washington, D.C. next July.

EDUCATOR HANDBOOK

DO THE WRITE THING 2023-2024

A CAMPAIGN TO STOP VIOLENCE

Overview

At the beginning of an academic year, educators facilitate discussions in their classrooms with three impactful questions. Middle school students are encouraged to talk about the impact of violence in their lives by writing a song, poem or story while offering solutions to reduce violence. DtWT provides a better understanding for adults about youth violence and how it affects young people. The program amplifies student voices and decreases youth violence in areas where students take the pledge to Do the Write Thing.

Personal responsibility is emphasized. Through their writing and discussions, you will deepen your understanding of your students' lived realities, helping you to facilitate empathetic communication and foster a positive and impactful learning environment. Your involvement and support are crucial to the success of DtWT in your school.

Please review the following materials concerning program rules, entry deadlines, selection criteria, classroom discussion, and student recognition before presenting the program to your students.

Selection Criteria

1 JUDGING:

Entries will be reviewed by your jurisdiction's DtWT Committee, the coalition of business, community and governmental leaders that oversees and administers DtWT in your area. Entries will be selected on the basis of content, originality and responsiveness to the three questions:

- How has violence affected my life?
- What are the causes of youth violence?
- What can I do to reduce youth violence?

Grammar and spelling will not be used as criteria for selection.

2 WRITINGS EMPHASIS:

In student writings, they should be encouraged to describe what they feel are the causes of youth violence and to offer specific suggestions about what they as individuals can do to reduce violence in their homes, schools and neighborhoods. Personal responsibility for responding to the problem of youth violence should be emphasized. Students should be encouraged to share personal experiences about the impact of violence on their lives and the lives of their peers. The panel of judges in your area will be looking at how well your students present their views on these matters.

Classroom Discussion

QUESTIONS DESIGNED TO GENERATE DISCUSSION

- How does violence affect your daily lives?
- Where are you confronted by violence? Your home? Your school? Your neighborhood?
- What are some of the causes of youth violence in your community?
- What can you as an individual do to reduce youth violence in your community?

Student Recognition

LOCAL LEVEL

Each jurisdiction participating in DtWT has established a DtWT Committee to coordinate the program. A jurisdiction may be a city, a county, a city-county combination or even an entire state.

Most DtWT Committees will organize a recognition ceremony to honor a male and a female student from each participating middle school who are selected as School Ambassadors.* In addition to the School Ambassadors from each school, you, along with the students' parents and your principal, will be invited to attend the recognition ceremony. Most DtWT Committees will also publish the writings of all their School Ambassadors and distribute the publication to area community, business and governmental leaders.

*Schools with fewer than twenty-five entries will be grouped together for review and School Ambassador selection purposes.

While all DtWT Committees are encouraged to hold local recognition ceremonies and publish books of student writings, and while most local DtWT Committees do undertake these activities, the responsibility for organizing and funding these functions rests with each local Committee. Some start-up Committees do not initiate these functions during the early years of operation.

Student Recognition

NATIONAL LEVEL

Each DtWT Committee will designate two student National Ambassadors. The two National Ambassadors along with each student's educator and one parent/guardian will be invited by the National Campaign to Stop Violence to attend the Do the Write Thing National Recognition Week activities in Washington, D.C. in July of 2024.*

The majority of the costs for the National Recognition Week activities will be paid for by our primary sponsor: the Kuwait-America Foundation. The people of Kuwait have donated money to the DtWT program for the past 30 years. This has been done to thank the American people for the liberation of Kuwait in 1991.

During past National Recognition Weeks, National Ambassadors have met with a United States Supreme Court Justice, the United States Secretary of Education, the Attorney General of the United States, the United States Secretary of Interior, Members of Congress and many notable celebrities to discuss the problem of youth violence. A highlight of National Recognition Week is placing a book of writings of the 2023-2024 Student National Ambassadors in the Library of Congress. This ensures that the students' words are preserved for future generations. In addition, students have been honored at embassy receptions hosted by the State of Kuwait.

*Jurisdictions must have at least 500 student writings to qualify for participation in the National Recognition Week activities in Washington, D.C.

- Improves communication at home with children and spouse
- Creates a greater awareness of violence in the school and community

DtWT Changes Minds

The Changing Minds campaign is sponsored by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention. Based on scientific research from Harvard, the research reveals that a child's positive and negative experiences shape and reshape the brain. The more a child witnesses violence, the more neural connections are created in the regions of the brain that involve fear, anxiety and impulsiveness... while fewer are created in regions that involve reasoning, planning and behavior control. This increased stress can lead to "long-term behavioral and physiological disorders" including depression, drug abuse, diabetes, stroke and inflammation patterns.

However, the young brain is malleable. Fostering stable, supportive relationships can prevent or help reverse this damage, resulting in lifelong benefits for the child's learning, behavior and overall health.

DtWT is a proven program that can mitigate the negative impact of violence on a child when educators and volunteers open pathways using the "Five Gestures" suggested by OJJDP to help heal a child.
